

CENTER FOR LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

NEWSLETTER: Week of December 4, 2017

NEWS AND UPDATES

Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Fellowship Applications Now Open

The Center for Latin American Studies is pleased to announce that it is now accepting applications for its Academic Year 2018-2019 Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Fellowship Competitions. Students are invited to attend one of the CLAS FLAS information sessions, to be held in 100 Enarson Classroom Building (2009 Millikin Road) on the following dates:

- Thursday, December 7, 2017, 11:30 - 12:30 p.m.

RSVP to clas@osu.edu with your name and the date of the session you plan to attend. Any questions about the CLAS FLAS Fellowship program should be directed to Megan Hasting at clas@osu.edu.

The deadline for application submission is Thursday, February 1, 2018, 4:30 pm EST. For more information on the fellowship and application, please visit: <https://clas.osu.edu/FLAScompetition>.

Application Open for Boren Awards: Language Study and Research in Latin America

The application for the 2018 Boren Awards is now open at www.borenawards.org!

Boren Awards fund U.S. undergraduate and graduate language study and research abroad in world regions critical to U.S. national interests (including Africa, Asia, Central & Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America, and the Middle East). Boren Awards promote longer-term linguistic and cultural immersion overseas, and are available to applicants in most fields of study.

Applicants are encouraged to contact their Boren Awards campus representatives, listed in a directory on the website, for institution-specific guidance. They may also contact Boren Awards staff directly at 1-800-618-NSEP or boren@iie.org.

Help CLASP Support our Education Partners in Puerto Rico

In response to the devastating impact of Hurricane Maria on primary, secondary and post-secondary educational institutions in Puerto Rico, CLASP has established a task force to support our partners throughout the island. As part of a partnership network, CLASP task force members are consulting with institutional leaders and relief organizations in Puerto Rico to prioritize areas for resource sharing, compiling information on CLASP member institutions' efforts to provide scholar and student support, and brokering new partnerships for long-term collaboration and exchange between CLASP member institutions and our colleagues in Puerto Rico.

Contact CLASP Puerto Rico Task Force Co-Chairs for more information: Lenny Urena, University of Florida: lurenavalerio@latam.ufl.edu, and Beatriz Riefkohl Muniz, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill: riefkohl@email.unc.edu.

Volunteers Needed for High School Outreach Project

The Center for Latin American Studies is looking for Ohio State graduate or undergraduate students who would like to volunteer for an outreach project with Granville High School. We are looking for students from Latin America or who are doing research in Latin America to serve as a resource for 12th grade students working on their senior research projects. Volunteers will participate in an informal discussion with students, serving as a resource throughout their project, and will be placed with one of 12 groups of students (representing Mexico, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Argentina, Chile, Brazil, Colombia, Honduras, and Guatemala). Volunteers will also be expected to participate in the Research Day on campus January 25 or 26, 2018. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact Megan Hasting at hasting.6@osu.edu.

UPCOMING EVENTS

North American Trade: Canada, Mexico, and the Future of NAFTA

Tuesday, December 12th | Hyatt Regency Fairfield Room, 350 N. High Street

The Columbus Council on World Affairs invites you to join us on December 12 for a dialogue on North American Trade: Canada, Mexico, and the Future of NAFTA with the following distinguished speakers, and a special introduction by Douglas George, Consul General of Canada.

For more information and to register: <http://mailchi.mp/columbusworldaffairs/north-american-trade-canada-mexico-and-the-future-of-nafta-754553?e=d1cefc54fb>

Call for Papers: "Fights for the Future: Revisiting Politics, Perspectives, and Place"

Indiana University's Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies would like to invite you to submit papers for the 7th Annual Graduate Student Conference: "Fights for the Future: Revisiting Politics, Perspectives and Place". The conference will take place between February 23rd and 24th, 2017, on the IU Bloomington campus and is open to students from all academic disciplines.

We encourage the submission of abstracts that showcase original research that examines conflicts over social, political, cultural, economic, technological, and environmental change. The deadline for papers is Monday December 4th 2017.

Information outlining the application process as well as relevant details on past conferences is available on our website: <http://www.indiana.edu/~clacs/events/gsc/>.

GRANT AND CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Albert J. Beveridge Research Grant in the History of the Western Hemisphere

The American Historical Association's Albert J. Beveridge Grant for Research in the Western Hemisphere supports research in the history of the United States, Canada, and Latin America; individual grants do not exceed $1,000.

For more information, please visit the program website.

Center for Latin American Studies Website

M.A. - Latin American Studies

Fulbright-Hays GPA "Teaching the Andes"

Andean Music Ensemble

Mayan Cultures Archive

Support CLAS

SUBSCRIBE TO CLAS
EMAIL LIST

FORWARD
THIS EMAIL