

TRAVEL AND EXPLORATION

MEDREN 2618

class no. 34268

Spring 2021

How did Christopher Columbus write about his voyages, and how do his letters compare to those of other European explorers who preceded and followed him? This course examines how travel narratives in the “Age of Discovery” shaped Europeans’ perceptions of their own and other cultures, generated and perpetuated stereotypes, and reflected and/or challenged imperial, colonial, and nationalist discourses.

INSTRUCTOR: Prof. Lisa Voigt, Department of Spanish and Portuguese
MEETINGS: Online, Wed./Fri. 11:10-12:30

GE Diversity Global Studies -- GE Cultures and Ideas
MORE INFO: <https://cmrs.osu.edu/curriculum/courses>

Image of Columbus statue via <https://www.providencejournal.com/news/20191014/christopher-columbus-statue-in-providence-vandalized>

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

CENTER FOR MEDIEVAL AND RENAISSANCE STUDIES

